Is the burning question that interests both political parties just now; but the question that interests the man who wants his linen done up with that snowy whiteness and exquisite beauty of finish that will only satisfy the man of refined taste, is where he will find the best laundry in town to do it. The majority of voters in Beaumont will vote that it is at the Beaumont Steam Laundry.

TESTING MACHINERY.

Atlantic Rice Milling company have for the last two days been testing their machinery and everything has been found to work admirably, and when the main engine is put in running order the mill will be ready to start at its full capacity, which will require 2,600 sacks per day. Manager Barton is of the opinion that everything will be in order in about one week.

They are working a crew night and day, getting things ready, and any night you might see the entire five stories illuminated with electric lights and filled with workmen busily putting the finishing touches on the machinery and building.

SUITS FILED.

Since 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon up to 2 o'clock this evening the following suits have been filed with District Clerk Boykin:

W. P. H. McFaddin vs. W. N. Nelson, to try title.

Ed Van Wormer vs. Tom Williams et al., to try title as well as for damages.

E. A. Blount vs. W. L. Douglas, foreclosure of deed of trust.

T. R. Wilson vs. Beaumont Wharf and Terminal company, damages.

Douglas Hebert vs. Susan Hebert, divorce.

John Kirkwood vs. Alla Kirkwood, divorce.

Texas and New Orleans Railway company vs. R. B. Underhill et al.; injunction. The defendants in this case are Sam Potts, R. B. Underhill, Van White, G. Conchia, Mrs. Fenney, the Gulf and Interstate Railway company, the Beaumont Wharf and Terminal company, the Texas Tram and Lumber company and the city of Beaumont. The suit was brought as a result of former suits filed by some of the parties who are defendants in the suit. In the suits brought by a part of the defendants mentioned in this suit they ask for damages on account of an overflow caused by a ditch that was constructed by the Texas and New Orleans Railway company, but that has been used by all of the other parties to drain their premises.

In the injunction filed by the Texas and New Orleans railway they ask that the parties named as defendants be restrained from interfering with or using the ditch after it has been cleaned out by the Texas and New Orleans railway company. Judge West's answer to the injunction in substance amounts to and is in about the following words: "When plaintiff mentioned in within petition shall file a bond with the clerk of the district court of Jefferson county, to be approved by him, for $500, with two or more good securities named, payable to defendants as provided by law, said clerk will issue a writ of injunction, prayed for in restraining defendants and each of them from in any manner interfering with plaintiff in cleaning out said ditch and repairing embankment thereto and removing obstruction therefrom, also restraining them and each of them in the future from refilling or interfering with said ditch and its embankment, and further the writ is denied."

The bond was approved, the injunction granted and the papers issued in the above case.

MADE HIM RUN.

Last night Frank Hall, proprietor of Hall's restaurant, had a difficulty with one John Mitchell, who was taking too much liberty in Hall's establishment.

From the evidence given in the mayor's court this morning, Hall gave Mitchell a blow across the nose which acted as a starter and then fired a pistol, which got all the running qualities out of Mitchell he ever possessed. The ball passed through Broussard's saloon on Pearl street, but fortunately did no damage.

The men were fined in the sum of $16.50.

W. C. T. U.'s CONVENTION CALL.

Chicago, November 16.—Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, president, and Mrs. S. M. D. Fry, corresponding secretary, have issued a call for the national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to meet in its twenty-seventh annual convention at Washington November 30, to continue in session until December 7.

"The time as well as the place of our meeting is significant," says the call. "It is the month of a presidential election and the week of the opening of the United States congress, in both of which we have intense interest, in the words of Miss Willard's convention call for 1896. 'We shall meet, not as a political party, but as those to whom politics seems a sacred duty; not as financiers, and yet as those so profoundly interested in finance; not as statesmen, but we trust as stateswomen—the women of a great nation, banded with a mighty earnestness, and with a clear vision that enables us to see that whatever else the nation and individuals constituting that nation may need, the primal note is applied righteousness.'"

Ladies, remember we are headquarters for Xmas goods; our line is all new and will be complete in a few days; goods arriving; now come in early and make your selections. We will have in soon a beautiful assortment of fine dress dolls at Flowers' Department store.
